Time to trade just about anything

Big news. We've partnered with the world's largest prediction market, Polymarket, so you can explore and trade on real-world outcomes without ever leaving the app. Just in time for a certain football-themed finale, which we probably can't mention by name...

Good luck!

Prediction markets 101

Prediction markets let you put real money behind what you think will actually happen – from elections to sports to who takes home the trophy – turning your insight into tradable positions.

The prices? They move with the crowd's collective bets, which means the odds you see are basically the wisdom of thousands, updating in real time.
